Research/Author Impact

According to PoP (Publish or Perish) assessment author impact: publications have received 4501 citations with an average of 102 cites per year (over 44 years), 22.17 cites per paper with an h-index of 33 and a g-index 64, November 2020. (Note: g-index allows highly cited papers to bolster low-cited papers. Roughly, h is the number of papers of a certain "quality" [citations] threshold, a threshold that rises as h rises; g allows citations from higher-cited papers to be used to bolster lower-cited papers in meeting this threshold)
