This class is an in-depth study of physical, verbal, emotional, and sexual abuse in the United States. This course will not only focus on women as victims of gender violence, but on same-sex partners as well as women offenders. Two days devoted to this topic cannot be “comprehensive” because the amount and forms of abuse are myriad. The goal is to 1) provide an overview into many facets of the problem, theories, and appropriate responses; 2) take an in-depth look at the various types of “gender violence” (intimate partner violence, sexual harassment, stalking, human trafficking, etc.) as well as some of the perpetrators of these crimes; and 3) examine some of the larger cultural contexts within which the varieties of abuse occur.
